Step 2: Insert your short cords through the knots at the working end of your bracelet with equal length on each side.

Step 3: Bring the top color on the right side down between the four core strands and lay it to the left behind the two left strands.

Step 4: Bring the left strand of the same color down the center and lay it to the right.

Step 5: Continue repeating steps 3 and 4 with the remaining colors.

The hardest part of this bracelet is keeping everything tight. You can tighten after each color or after all colors. Pull all ends away from the bracelet to tighten.

Once you have about an inch left on your bracelet, trim each cord to about four inches long.

Pull out the inner strands as much as you can and trim them. This will leave the ends hollow. You can melt the cord to prevent fraying as you finish.

Continue repeating steps 3 and 4 until you reach the end.

Weave the ends through the back and try to stagger them so you don't have a lot of bulk in one place. Pull the ends tight. Trim and melt the excess.
