Step 1: With the coyote cord make a two strand double cow's hitch. See our tutorial for instructions.

Step 2: Insert the black and swamp snake cords through the knots at the working end as shown with equal length on each side.

Step 3: Bring both coyote cord working ends behind the bracelet and cross them left over right.

Step 4: Bring the left black cord up through the loop created by the left coyote cord.

Step 5: Wrap the black cord around the crossed coyote cords and up through the left loop to the right of itself as shown.

Step 6: Wrap the black cord around the crossed cords again and bring the end up between the core strands.

Step 7: Bring the black cord end back through the second loop it created in the previous step.

Step 8: Repeat steps 4 through 7 with the other black cord.

Step 9: Wrap the left swamp snake cord over and around the crossed cords between the two black cords with the working end to the left of itself.

Step 10: Wrap the right swamp snake cord over and around the crossed cords between the black and other swamp snake with the working end on the right.
