Step 5: Fold the right cord down.

Step 6: With the left working end, weave it over the left two cords, under the right two cords and over the right working end.

Step 7: Now bring the right working end over the right two cords, behind the left two cords, and up through the space created by the left working end. Pull both ends tight and push up on the knot.

Step 8: Weave the right working end under the right two cords, over the left two cords, and under the left working end.

Step 9: Bring the left working end under the left two cords, over the right two cords, and down through the space created by the right working end. Pull tight and push up.

Continue repeating steps 6 through 9 until you have about 1/2 inch loops at the end.
